Dear Mei Ying,

Before I leave, I wanted to thank you for the pleasure of working with you for these last 3 months. I appreciated your support and management style and feel that I learned a great deal here.

By being assigned several notable projects and also being a part of an upcoming major new product launch, I am truly humbled by your confidence in me. Your constant feedback has not only helped me pin point certain areas that I needed to improve but also it has given me a platform to learn. Furthermore, the amount of exposure I have gained from this experience has given me a deeper insight into how a multibillion dollar company engage in marketing to propel its brands to greater heights.

I would also like to thank you for the many times that you have provided me with indirect assistance in solving certain problem that were out of my reach. For instance, you took the courtesy of arranging transportation for me to set up the samples during the Bake and Sell video shoot. On top of that, thank you for your understanding on my leave of absence for the L'Oreal Brandstorm Competition.

Lastly, I am happy to be a part of this prestigious company of dedicated individuals that strive to overcome multiple challenges and soar above all odds.

I hope we can stay in touch and best of luck to you!

Sincerely,
